Sorry to report Miss Edna Megginson on the sick list. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

4-H CLUB REPORT

The regular meeting of the 4-H Club.. was held Monday, December 12, in our room. Mr. J. A. Smith talked to us about the election of officers for our club. Then we elected the following:

President, Jimmy Torrence
Vice-president, Kathy Bragg
Secretary, Linda Slagle
Reporter, Tom Evans
Song leaders: Carolyn Coleman, Herbert Martin.

Mr. Smith talked to us about our insect project.

—Reporter: Tom Evans

On Jan. 12, 1956, we had our 4-H Club meeting in our room.

We talked about the fairs and the farm shows, and the events that we could enter. Afterwards we fixed bottles for our insect project. Mr. J. A. Smith gave us record books, in which to keep the names of the insects and where we found them.

—Tom Evans, Reporter.

NOTICE TO PARENTS

Are you interested in your child's education? If you are, please come to the P.-T. A. meeting on Tuesday, January 24, at 8 P. M. The meeting will be held in the H. S. cafeteria. Members of the A. H. S. faculty will present the program. If they, after teaching all day, are interested enough to prepare the program, then won't you show your appreciation by attending? This is the fourth of a series of meeting on Better School and Community Relations.

—Program Chairman.

CAR WASN'T READY

Cleveland, Ohio.- Going to a garage to pick up his car after mechanics repaired its smashed front end, Stanley Wenger was surprised to be told that the car was not ready. A mechanic had taken the car out to test the new front end and another car had rammed into its rear end.

Communist China and East Germany have signed a treaty of friendly cooperation and a protocol for cultural cooperation.

DEATH TOLL RECORD

Richmond, Jan. 18.- C. H. Lamb, Commissioner of the Division of Motor Vehicles, today made his annual appeal to Virginia motor vehicle licensees that if they have changed their address since registering their vehicles in 1955, that they immediately furnish the Division the following information:

New address, title number, make and identification number and name as shown on the old registration card.

Change of address blanks may be secured from the Division's 110 License Agents, 8 Branch offices, and at Division headquarters, 2220 West Broad Street, Richmond.

"On January 4, the division began processing more than 1,200,000 registration cards for the 1956 registration period," said Mr. Lamb, who pointed out that "if the licensee's address is the same as when he registered his vehicle in 1955, it is a matter of seconds to prepare his card. On the other hand, failure to notify the Division of a change in address in ample time before the registration period begins, March 15, often involves a delay of from 8 to 48 hours to make the necessary changes. This is bound to work a hardship on the licensee and cause him considerable inconvenience."

NEWS FOR VETERANS

More than 66,400 home loans totaling over $755,000,000 were guaranteed by the Veterans Administration during November, the second consecutive month that a new record was set for the 11-year-old GI loan program, VA announced.

In addition, GI home loan applications received in November continued at a record rate, while the number of homes for which VA received appraisal requests showed a decrease.

During November, VA received 55,174 GI home loan applications from private lenders on behalf of veterans, the sixteenth straight month the rate has topped 51,000.

However, VA received appraisal requests for 53,416 proposed and existing homes, 25 per cent under the October figure of 71,241 homes.

VA said the decrease probably is due to three factors: (1) inability of builders to get advance commitments in the tightened money market; (3) seasonal, and (3) smaller number of workdays during the November reporting period than in October.

Subscription rate: $2.00 a year; payable in advance.

Mrs. Schilling To Be Speaker At Garden Club

Mrs. Fred Schilling, of Avon, will speak on the Nature Camp of the Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs at the regular monthly meeting of the Appomattox Garden Club on Monday night, January 23, at 8:00 o'clock, in the Appomattox High School cafeteria. Mrs. Schilling, who as chairman of the Conservation Committee of the Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs, felt that the greatest need was for the conservation of our youth, today has seen her dream become a reality in the Nature Camp. This Camp, the only one in the United States sponsored by a State Federation of Garden Clubs, has been made possible by donations from all the member clubs and it has been said that other states speak of this camp with the same reverence that they say, "My grandfather was born in Virginia." Mrs. Schilling is the Executive Director of Nature Camp.

Hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Ivey Holand, Mrs. Robert A. Sears and Mrs. J. A. Burke.

Artistic Exhibits for the evening will include ( ) "a Composition using any material featuring one or more figurines in the design." ( ) "a composition of greens s using fruit for accent."

Horticultural exhibits will include (1) any house plant in bloom, (2) any house plant grown for decorative foliage, and (3) specimen of forced shrub.

Interested persons who are not members of the Garden Club are cordially invited to attend this meeting, and are always welcome at any time.

ANTIQUES FORUM AT WILLIAMSBURG

Williamsburg, Va.- Ignorance of antiques is the greatest pitfall of amateur antique collectors, according to some of the countries leading antiquarians. Curators of museums in New York, Detroit, Boston, Providence, and other major cities who will speak at the 1956 Williamsburg Antiques Forum, starting here January 23, agree they would-be collectors to learn all they can about the history of the antiques they collect, as well as craftsmanship, craftsmen and aesthetic values.

According to the experts, too many collectors accumulate a great many diverse objects without knowledge of their use or value, and they are inclined to look for a bargain rather than relying on the judgment of reputable dealers.

The second session of the Forum, January 29 through February 3, will be devoted to the greatest concern of all collectors, "Quality in Antiques." Illustrated talks on American furniture, Chippendale and his contemporaries, 18th century textiles, silver, American frontier paintings, antique prints, the ceramic arts, American architexture, and the decorative arts of Europe will all stress the aesthetic values, and quality of craftsmanship that make these articles objects of great value.

This will be the eighth year that hundreds of collectors from across the country gather in this restored 18th century city to get firsthand information and advice on all phases of antique collecting from curators and collectors. The Forum, co-sponsored by Colonial Williamsburg and Antiques Magazine, is scheduled in two five-day sessions and registrations have been so heavy for the 1956 Forum that the first session is already filled.

HEREDITY GETS MORE BLAME FOR HEART ILLS

A leading specialist blames heredity more than high-pressure living for the increasing rate of heart deaths. He is Dr. Irvine Page, of Cleveland, Ohio, president of the American Heart Association.

"I think that men lived at high pressure ever since they built the pyramids in Egypt," he said."Something else is responsible for our continued increase in heart deaths.

"About 800,000 are dying of heart disease now, and we have predicted that no less than 1,200,000 will succomb to heart disease in 1960."

Heredity, he says, is probably responsible for the fact that heart disease strikes so many more Caucasian Americans than it does Navajo Indians, or Japanese. But diet is also a factor, he added.

Fats are being withheld from 15,000 persons to see if this helps to prevent hardening of the arteries. There is some reason to believe that reducing fats at least 30 per cent would be advisable.

"More exercise before we become ill may deter later heart ailments, but you can't escape heredity as a factor."

"People can't get too much education about heart disease. And at last doctors are beginning to think of heart diseases in terms of causes instead of just effects. We are not just treating symptoms."

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our son and brother, S 1/C Paul Calvin Brown, who was killed in service 12 years ago, Jan., 1944.

Twelve long years have passed away
But still we don't forget you, Calvin dear,
For in the hearts that loved you best
You'll memain lingers yet.
How sad and sudden was the call of one so dearly loved by all.

Now the family cord is broken,
And "Oh," at home how we miss you,
But we hope to meet you on that happy golden shore,
Where there is no more tears or sorrow there.

Through the valley of the shadow,
Down the road we all must tread,
One we love so dearly has gone before us and now waits for us ahead.

May we meet this sorrow bravely,
Knowing on some distant day,
We will be again united,
With the one who is away.

We can never forget you dear Calvin
Though long seem the years,
And often in our lonely hours,
We wipe away our tears.
We have comfort in knowing God is good,
He gives us strength to bear our bitter loss.

—Sadly missed by Mother, Father, Brothers and Sister, Mrs. J. H. Spiggle, Gladstone, Va.

Homemakers Items

Keep Your Home Groomed

Good grooming should apply to a home as well as to a person, says Miss Ruth Jamison, house furnishings specialist at VPI.

She points out that it will take all hands (father, mother and children) only about five minutes to "groom" the living room each evening, so there should never be cause for apologies should unexpected guests drop in.

Organize your family and give good house-grooming a try. The house is much more livable when it is kept orderly than when it is just dusted.

Empty ashtrays and wash them. Stack magazines according to size, to kind, or in an interesting arrangement. Keep back numbers stored in a special place provided for them. Only current numbers should be kept out in the living room.

Arrange books according to their size and/or color for good appearance. Keep them dusted and orderly.

Keep green plants or arrangements of evergreen leaves in the house. Don't fail to water them each day. Pinch off wilted leaves.

Check the lamps. Be sure the shades are straight.

Adjust curtains and draperies. Adjust the folds and see that the hooks are fastened at the top. Fluff up the cushions to keep them looking nice.

What about the hearth? Is the fireplace filled with cigarettes and scraps of paper? And have your pictures been jolted askew?

Did you straighten up the desk when you finished using it? What about desk drawers? Are you ashamed to open them when you go for check book and bills?

Do you have to remove a dolly every time you dust? Smart looking homes are not spotted with doilies —under every lamp, vase, or in the center of the dining room table.

Get the cooperation of your family for about five minutes each night in straightening up before going to bed.

News Around Town

By Mrs. Calvin Robinson

I liked this one:

A parishioner called at the clergyman's home. Presently the minister's little son went up to the visiting lady and blurted, "My, how ugly you are."

Horrified, his mother remonstrated, "Johnny! Whatever can you mean by saying such a thing?"

"I only meant it for a joke, mother," Johnny stammered.

"Well," his mother purred, unwittingly, "how much better the joke would have been if you had said to Mrs. Smith, 'How pretty you are!' " —Healthways.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Lewis McDearmou, Mrs. Hazel R. Mann, Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Spencer and daughter, Mary Yancey, will leave Monday for Norfolk, where they will embark on Tuesday for a 14-day Caribbean Cruise.

Mrs. C. S. Booth was hostess this week to the Tuesday bridge club. High score was awarded to Mrs. D. E. Caldwell, Jr., and consolation prize went to Mrs. Dora Randolph.

Father Darkleaf and I had to go to Richmond on a business trip last week-end, and while there we attended the big wrestling event between Lou Thesz and George Beckett—two of my favorites. It ended in a draw, before over 5,000 fans. And as we were leaving, we waved to our friends, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hudson and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Martin, who were also taking in the bouts.

We got back in time to have Sunday dinner with the Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Robinson, who were having a joint birthday celebration. Rev. Mr. Robinson's birthday was the 15th, and Mrs. Robinson's the 20th.

Congratulations to Mr. W. J. LeGrand, who celebrated his birthday on Tuesday evening, Jan. 17. Mr. and Mrs. LeGrand, Mr. and Mrs. "Boots" LeGrand and daughter, Marty, and Miss Mary Ann LeGrand had birthday dinner at Maud's Hot Shop.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cunningham, of Baltimore, who will celebrate their 11th wedding anniversary on Friday the 20th. Mrs. Cunningham is the former Miss Doris Lucado, of Appomattox.

And congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Glenn, who celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary on Monday, Jan. 16. A dinner party was held at Maud's Hot Shop in the evening. Covers were laid for ten guetss, with place cards carrying out the appropriate anniversary motif. A centerpiece of green, in keeping with the "Emerald" celebration was used for table decoration. A decorated wedding cake was cut by the celebrating couple. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hawkins, of Lynchburg; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Janatka, Dr. and Mrs. Charles F. James, Dr. Twyman Williams and Billy Sillo.

Miss Rosa Mae Wooldridge, coowner of Natural Beauty Salon, spoke to the F. H. A. Club at the high school auditorium Tuesday morning. Miss Wooldridge spoke to the group on good grooming, with emphasis on hair styling.

Friends are sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. Gene Torrence. Mr. Torrence is a patient in Memorial Hospital. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. J. D. Moses, who is celebrating her birthday today, was a luncheon guest of her niece, Mrs. J. E. Jamerson. Mrs. L. E. Smith was also a guest.

APPOMATTOX SCOUTS WON FROM FARMVILLE

The Boy Scouts of Appomattox played the Boy Scouts of Farmville in a basketball game on Saturday afternoon, at the A. H. S. Gymnasium. Appomattox won by a score of 45 to 25. Freddy Mitchell was high scorer, with 26 points.

Appomattox Scouts will play the Farmville Scouts at Farmville February 14.
